said: I asked ʿAbd al-Raḥmān ibn al-Qāsim: 'Tell me regarding ritual ablution (al-wuḍūʾ)—did Imām Mālik stipulate a fixed number of washings in it: once, twice, or three times?' He [Ibn al-Qāsim] replied: 'No, except that one must perform it thoroughly and completely (illā mā asbagha); Mālik did not fix a mandatory number, and the transmitted reports (al-āthār) have varied regarding the number.' Ibn al-Qāsim said: 'Mālik did not stipulate a fixed count in ablution—neither once, nor twice, nor three times. And Mālik said: Allah (Mighty and Majestic is He) only declared: O you who have believed, when you rise to [perform] prayer, wash your faces and your forearms to the elbows and wipe over your heads and wash your feet to the ankles [al-Māʾidah: 6]; thus He (Mighty and Majestic is He) did not stipulate once to the exclusion of three times.' Ibn al-Qāsim said: 'I never saw with Mālik in major ritual bath (al-ghusl) or ablution (al-wuḍūʾ) a fixed numerical restriction—neither once, nor twice, nor three times—rather, he used to say: One performs ablution or ritual bath and completes both thoroughly (yusbighuhumā jamīʿan).' Ibn Wahb narrated from Mālik ibn Anas, from ʿAmr ibn Yaḥyā ibn ʿUmārah ibn Abī Ḥasan al-Māzinī, from his father Yaḥyā, that he heard his grandfather Abū Ḥasan ask ʿAbdullāh ibn Zayd ibn ʿĀṣim—who was among the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and the grandfather of ʿAmr ibn Yaḥyā: 'Can you show me how the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to perform ablution?' ʿAbdullāh ibn Zayd said: 'Yes.' So he called for water for ablution, poured it over his hands and washed his hands twice each; then he rinsed his mouth and cleansed his nose three times; then he washed his face three times; then he washed his forearms up to the elbows twice each; then he wiped his head with his hands, moving them backward and forward—starting from the front of his head until he took them to the nape of his neck, and then returning them to the place from which he started; then he washed his feet.' Mālik said: 'And [the report of] ʿAbd al-ʿAzīz ibn Abī Salamah is the best of what we have heard regarding that, and the most comprehensive according to us regarding the wiping of the head is this.'
